

LENOX TURNS OUT AT HORSE SHOW—NEWPORT HOMES CLOSE

Well Known Women Contest With High Class Animals in Ring at Springfield Exposition

LENOX, Mass., Sept. 20. DESPITE some poor weather several large parties of cottagers went to Springfield this week to attend the horse show of the Eastern States Exposition, where Miss Isabelle Wamaker of Merion, Pa.; Miss Constance Vaulain of Roseman, Pa.; Mrs. Joseph S. Sylvester of Hanover, and Miss Eleanor Sears of Beverly Farms were contestants for awards in the hunter and jumper classes.

Miss Vaulain, daughter of Samuel Vaulain, sent her entire collection of equine celebrities. These included The Whip, a famous imported hackney mare; Lady Dillon, English Fly, The Wasp, the famous saddle horse; The Minstrel and her jumpers Arbut and Bantisthorpe. Mrs. R. Fryer Combs sent her sensational winners, Revelation, Consecration and Ambition, having adopted a system of naming her horses by words ending in "ion."

Miss Wamaker has many friends in the colony who have followed her movements in the horse show rings in many places. Miss Sears, who is a famous figure in several departments of the world of sport, had a strong entry, including the famous champion saddle horse Radiant, and her well known ponies Wildfire and Bouncer.

So interested were the cottagers in the exposition that they sent a prize winning collection of vegetables and fruits, gathered from all of the large estates and arranged by Alfred H. Wingett, Fred and Harry Heermann, A. J. Loveless and S. H. Carlquist.

Mrs. Raymond T. Baker, who went to Raquette Lake on Monday for several weeks at her lodge, which is her legal residence, is building a group of buildings at Holmwood after a design of English stables and houses. There will be several coach barns and apartments for stable help. The plan is an adaptation from one made for a large estate in Great Britain. The contract calls for $35,000 for the buildings.

Return From Western Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Cortlandt Bishop arrived here this week from three months touring on the Pacific coast. They were at the Catalina Islands for a time for tuna, some of which were mounted and sent to Lenox. Then they travelled to the Imperial Desert and by short trips went northward, taking a side trip to Lake Tahoe, thence going to Oregon and Washington.

Miss Beatrice Bishop, their only child, was with them for the first time on this Western trip. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop will go to Europe next year, where they will make an extensive tour. Since the war they have travelled in the West during the summer months, having previously for fifteen years passed the season abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop will remain at the Maple until after New Year's.

Mrs. Albert R. Shattuck gave a luncheon at White Lodge for the Princess Buoncompagni of Rome, who was at the Hotel Aspinwall with Miss Gladys Hinckley of Washington before going to Lake George. Mr. Shattuck came to Lenox this week after two months travel in England and France, where he is in preservation in a Bird life in its preservation is a topic of interest to the Lenox Garden Club. At Monday's meeting of the council of the club in Mrs. Richard C. Dixey's home Ralph Hoffman of St. Louis spoke on the birds of Berkshire. He has classified the species and made a study of those on Greylock, the highest mountain in Massachusetts. Miss Heloise Meyer, who has been a bird student here and abroad, gave a talk on birds to the boys of the Episcopal Church at Home in Pittsfield on Tuesday night.

The Right Rev. Thomas F. Davies, Episcopal Bishop of Western Massachusetts, a prominent cottager, will go to Detroit early in October to attend the Episcopal convention. The Bishop is one of the most consistent golfers on the Lenox course.

Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Raymond T. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. William E. S. Griswold and other cottagers who attend the old Congregational Church on the Hill are interested in the approaching 150th anniversary of the church to be celebrated September 28 and 29. The Rev. Dr. Frederick E. Emrich of Boston will be the principal speaker. The Rev. Benson N. Wyman of the church will give the historical address. From this church went the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst to New York and the Rev. Dr. Frederick J. Lynch.

Burglaries Again at Lenox.

Another epidemic of burglaries has been disturbing the cottagers. While Mr. and Mrs. W. Roscoe Bousal were entertaining at dinner this week some one entered Ventfort Hall and ransacked the rooms on the upper floors. A burglar made an attempt to enter Interlaken, the country house of Mrs. John E. Parsons. The cottagers are paying $1,000 a month for watchmen and special police officers to guard their houses. At several estates police dogs roam the properties at night.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. O. Field and their sons, Osgood and Frederick Field, returned on Tuesday to Highlawn House from Quebec. They passed two weeks in the Cascapedia region hunting and fishing. Osgood Field, Jr., also returned from a Canadian hunting trip. James Stillman 3d went to Boston for equipment for a month's hunting and fishing on the Stillman ranch in Canada.

Mrs. Robert Winthrop has Mrs. Morgan Dix of New York as her guest at Ethelwyn, where a number of entertainments for Mrs. Dix have been given.

Mrs. George Griswold Haven, who was ill at Sunnyside, was taken to her New York home Thursday by her daughter, Mrs. Forsyth Wickes. Mr. and Mrs. Wickes were called from Newport to Lenox by the illness of Mrs. Haven.

House guests at the villas include Mrs. Francis G. Shaw of Boston, with Mr. and Mrs. George Baty Blake; Mrs. Charles A. Denny, Miss Helen P. Denny, Miss Irene Bigelow of New York, with Charles Lanier; Mrs. Joseph W. Burden of New York, with Mrs. John E. Parsons.

Mrs. Andrew Carnegie will go next week to Millbrook, N. Y., to pass the remainder of the season with Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sloane returned to Mount Kisco, N. Y., this week after visiting Mr. and Mrs. William E. S. Griswold.

Miss Peggy Monell was a guest of Miss Helen Frothingham this week, coming up from New York for a dance given at Overlea.

Many Visitors at Resort.

Miss Dorothy Darling of New York is stopping with Mrs. Curt H. Reisinger at Aspinwall cottage.

Mrs. William Apgar went to Madison, N. J. from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. George E. Dunscombe.

Mrs. Pembroke Jones arrived on Tuesday at the Root cottage, which she has leased for the autumn. She has Miss Bolles of Newport as her guest.

Mr. John E. Alexandro will entertain St. Paul's Conference of the Berkshire district at Spring Lawn next Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. William Norton Bullard arrived at Highwood from the Maine coast.

Ross T. Whistler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Winans Whistler, has gone to Boston to enter a banking house.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry O. Tallmadge returned to New York from a short stay at the Curtis Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Cushing Hopkin returned to Ielp, L. I., after a visit to Lenox.

Late bookings at the Hotel Aspinwall will extend the season to the middle of October. Among the arrivals are:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Tinsley, Robert McCutcheon, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McMurray, Capt. W. H. Howard, Miss S. King, Miss J. L. Gardner of New York, Mr. C. F. Spaulding, Mrs. J. V. PAUL SMITH'S.

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Members of the Paul Smith Cottage colony and sojourners at the hotel, devoted much time to golf and fishing this week. Among the players making long scores in the fall tournament of the St. Regis River golf club were F. A. Wyckoff and W. M. Dolson of New York, Major W. H. Eglington of Elizabeth, N. J., Dr. Walter T. Diver of Troy and Capt. Harold Wilder of Chicago.

Fishing honors have been captured by Miss C. Foote Torrey of New York, who is at the hotel for a few weeks, accompanied by F. J. Foote and Miss S. Omsstead of New York. Miss Torrey has taken several pictures from Osgood Lake, the largest weighing two pounds.

Others who have done well at fishing include Mr. and Mrs. Guy Phelps Dodge, Mrs. B. B. McClelland, Mrs. H. H. Emery, Miss Anna Emery, Edward Emery, Mr. T. Edward Wilder and Harold and Harris E. Wilder of Chicago.

Mrs. C. M. L. Nash of New York is the guest of Mrs. F. C. Maffitt at the latter's cottage.

Miss Caroline Lee of Princeton, who was here several previous seasons and who returned recently for September at Paul Smith's, is accompanied by Miss V. H. Lisle of Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. George J. Whelan and party of New York were week end visitors at Paul Smith's.

C. C. Tegloff of New York was the guest of John L. Townsend over the week end. Other recent New York arrivals included Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Suydam, Mrs. Cord Meyer and Mrs. M. W. Covert.

MRS. ROLAND DELANO REDMOND and MRS. VINCENT ASTOR'S BLACK JOE.

INDIAN SUMMER LURES MANY TO MOUNTAINS

WHITE MOUNTAINS, N. H., Sept. 20. THE autumn season in the White Mountains received a little setback on account of rain during the last week, but beautiful weather is expected by local prophets during all of the Indian summer. Motor tourists continue to arrive in large numbers.

Among those who arrived in the hills this week was Mrs. Margaret Draper Buoncompagni of Rome, who motored to the Mount Washington Hotel with Miss Gladys Hinckley of Washington to pass a few days.

Mrs. John Clinton Gray of Newport, who motored to the mountains, passed a few days at the Mount Washington Hotel, went on to the Balsams at Dixville Notch and from there to Bethel Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Donn Barber of New York with their children, were at the Mount Washington on a motor trip this week and found many friends there.

Prince and Princess Aymon Fucigny Lucinge of Paris, who are at the Mount Washington for the autumn season, have given several small dinners, one for Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Jenks of New York and another on Saturday for Mr. and Mrs. John N. Willys, who motored up from the Eben D-Jordan place at Manchester-by-the-Sea, where they passed the summer. Prince Lucinge, who is Mayor of the little town where his Norman chateau is located, will return to France on October 1 because of the elections there in that month. The Princess will remain for a time in New York, where she is paying her first visit since the war.

Senator Davis Elkins of West Virginia is spending a few days at the Mount Washington, which he visits annually during the autumn season.

The Crawford House has large summer colony. Among recent arrivals there were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Runk, who visited Mr. and Mrs. C. Hilton Brown of New York for a few days; Mr. and Mrs. Brown will be joined by their daughter and son-in-law over this week end; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Fraser of New York, who will motor back to New York after having passed the entire summer at the Crawford House.

Mrs. Frederick Everett Thompson of New York drove Mrs. David F. Kalme and Mrs. Lewis R. Rommel of Philadelphia and Washington to Polly's Place at Colebrook, where Mrs. Kalme entertained at a farewell luncheon.

Mrs. Emil L. Boas of New York is passing the month at the Balsams. James A. Blair is also there. Miss Elsie French Rice of New York and Southampton is there for the autumn season with friends.

Alfred E. Voss of Brooklyn, of the King's County Republican Committee, is at the Crawford House with Mrs. Voss for the month of September.

Randall Powers Barron of New York, who is spending a few days at Block Island with Edward Carey of New York, will arrive soon at the Crawford House, joining Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Barron and Mrs. Frederick Thompson of New York for his annual visit here.

Mrs. E. DeForest Danielson of Boston has joined Princess Lucinge at the Mount Washington. T. Clarence Hollander has arrived there from his estate at W. Venham, accompanied by Lewis C. Benton, Major and Mrs. J. Augustus Barnard of New York are also there.

Still lingering at the Waumbek at Jefferson are the Mark Skinner Willings of Chicago, Mrs. Thomas Dimond and J. Renwick Dimond of New York and the Henry A. Blairs of Chicago, all of whom will stay here.

George Kenyon of New York, who has his children, has also been among late sojourners there.

The Profile House has many late season visitors, and will be well filled to the last. Mrs. Arthur Butler Trembly, Mrs. A. S. Jarvis, Mrs. Mabel Rhodes, Mrs. Brayton Ives, Miss Nina Rhodes, Mrs. Ewald Flettman, Mrs. Charles Stewart Smith and Mrs. E. W. Jackson are among the cottagers who always remain late in autumn. Gen. and Mrs. W. N. P. Darrow have closed their cottage. They went to pass a month at the Gramatan at Bronxville before going to their winter home at St. Augustine, Fla. Thomas Harris Powers will go from here to the Mount Washington Hotel before starting for Philadelphia. He will proceed on November 1 to the Greenbrier at White Sulphur Springs, where he expects to pass most of the autumn and winter.

Mrs. Thomas Crimmins of New York with her young sons, Don and Robert Crimmins, and Mrs. H. Boyan, has arrived at the Profile, where she has joined Mrs. Henry Flettman and will remain until the close of the house. Charles E. Sampson and Miss Gertrude Sampson have gone from here to spend a week at the Balsams.

Miss Eleonora Kissel of Morristown joined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph H. Kissel, at the Profile House last week and will remain with them until the close of the season. Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Kip will also be here some time. Mr. and Mrs. W. Dixon Ellis arrived at the Profile House, whence they are enjoying trips by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Poole of New York, Mrs. J. H. Winterbotham of Chicago, Mrs. Rufus Gibbs of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hooker, Jr., of New Haven, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mallory of Philadelphia and many others are among the Sugar Hill cottage colony remaining late in the season. The colonies at Bethlehem, Chocorua, Whitefield, Intervale, North Conway and Jackson will also number many late stayers. Mrs. Bradley Redell of Newport and Philadelphia has returned to her estate on Thorn Hill in Jackson to end the season after a visit to her sister, Miss Anna Reed at the Crawford House, which has en-

Entertaining Has Not Been Lacking in Rhode Island Resort Despite the Many Departures—Colonists Eager to See Battlefields Plan Trips Abroad

NEWPORT, Sept. 20. BATTLE scarred France is to be the objective of numerous members of the summer colony of this city in the fall and winter. All are anxious to see the scenes of the great battles of the world war, while some have business abroad to which they were unable to attend during the war.

Several of the colonists closed their seasons here early this week, went to New York and took passage for European ports. Miss Louise B. Scott, who sailed on the Rotterdam, is bound for Paris, where she will visit her niece, Mrs. Philander Lathrop Cable, formerly Miss Mimi Scott, whose husband is third secretary of the American Embassy there.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Moulton are on the way to their former home in Paris, they having come back to this have gone to Long Island include Mr. and Mrs. William Payne Thompson, who were accompanied by Lady Lowther, a sister of Mrs. Thompson. The latter has been visiting them in Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. DeLancey Kounias have returned to New York, as have Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Carhart and Mrs. George L. Rives. The latter was accompanied by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Godwin. Mrs. Rives closed Swanhurst much earlier than usual this year.

Mrs. Pembroke Jones has closed Sherwood and with her daughter, Mrs. J. Russell Pope, and the latter's children have gone to Lenox for a stay before returning to New York for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Roberts have closed Southside and started for their winter home in Philadelphia. Viscount and Countess de Sibour, who passed the summer in Newport, have gone to Washington.

With the closing of Hill Top Inn for return to New York to-morrow night. Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs has as her guests the children of her daughter, Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas. The latter is also expected here soon to make a visit. She and Mr. Thomas, it is understood, are contemplating a visit to France during the winter. Mrs. Oelrichs entertained with children's party for her guests this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Philip Benard will not close their season until Tuesday. Dr. and Mrs. Henry Barton Jacobs, who are still at their Narragansett avenue home, will remain there until the end of the month. Mr. and Mrs. William Woodward, another of the Ochre Point district families, will stay here until almost October 1.

Many other families of the summer colony will remain for some time. Entertaining, while not brisk as a month or so ago, has not died out entirely. One of the feature parties of the last few days was that which Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wilson gave in their Middletown farm home in honor of Miss Grace Vanarbit. This was a dinner followed by dancing. For the latter many guests came in late in the evening.

Mrs. Beckman, wife of the Governor, entertained at Land's End. She furnished the conveyance to give outings to inmates of the Newport Hospital's camp for crippled children on each bright and sunny afternoon during the summer. The children and those in charge of the camp were most grateful for the kindness.

Mme. George Bakmeteff has entertained at Stone Villa, and among the other hostesses of the week were Mrs. Clarence W. Dolan, Mrs. Joseph E. Widener, Mrs. Arthur Graham Glasgow, Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Gibson Fahnstock, Mrs. Frederick Nelson, Mrs. Gustav J. S. White, Mrs. Dudley Davis and Miss Julia A. Berwind. Austin L. Sands had the Clambake Club one evening for a dinner in honor of Major and Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Jr.

Mrs. John Nicholas Brown will be back in Newport soon with her son, as they are on their way home from Japan, where they passed the greater part of the summer, having gone there with Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. McCagg.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Abney, who this summer rented their summer home, Cave Cliff, to Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Mills, have returned to Newport and are at their cottage for the fall. Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Lorillard have returned from Pomfret to visit Mrs. Lorillard's mother, Mrs. William R. Hunter.

Gen. J. Fred Pierson also has returned here after visiting Bernardsville, N. J., where he attended the marriage of Miss Marie L. Blair to Pierpont Morgan Hamilton. Another wedding that will be of interest to the country at the beginning of the war so that Mr. Moulton might join the forces of Uncle Sam. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Duncan, who closed Bonniere early in the week, have also started for France for a stay of two months. One of their sons has gone to Tuxedo to spend the time with relatives and the other has entered Groton school.

Roswell has been closed by Mrs. Herman Oelrichs and she too has sailed for France, where she has some legal business to attend to, it is understood, and her stay will be for an indefinite period.

Mrs. James McDonald of Washington, who is occupying Rosetta Villa on Bellevue avenue, is to go to London in November. Mrs. McDonald and her son, Arthur Bradley Campbell, who were prominent in the Newport colony this summer, will return next season. Mrs. McDonald will purchase an estate if she finds one to her liking. She has looked over several already, but has not come to any definite decision.

Many End Newport Season.

James J. Van Allen is also going to France toward spring. He will close his season here on October 13, when he will go to the Virginia Hot Springs for a while before returning to New York for the winter. When he does go to Paris, it is said, it will be his intention to make his future home there.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Lathrop Ames closed their season this week and have returned to their winter home on the North Shore in Massachusetts. Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth Wickes closed their cottage and went to Lenox, whither they were called by the illness of Mrs. Wickes's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. William Goadby Loew closed Stoneacre and with the Misses Loew have returned to their Long Island home at Westbury. Others who the season during the week Countess di Cellere, wife of the Italian Ambassador, closed her season and went with her daughters to New Rochelle, where she will visit before returning to Washington.

Will Close Homes To-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Frelinghuysen are to bring their Newport season to a close to-morrow night. Mrs. Charles de L. Oelrichs and daughter, who were guests of Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs for a part of the summer and who are now at the La Forge, will also members of the summer colony, though it is to take place in New York on October 23, will be that of Miss Lucy L. Patterson and H. Casimir de Rahm. Miss Patterson was in Newport part of this season, the guest of Mr. de Rahm's mother at her summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan L. Mott, whose summer home, Paradise Rocks, was destroyed by fire early in the summer, have had all the debris within the stone walls removed and examined for articles of value, the house having contained many priceless bits.

ACTIVITIES AT SARANAC INN

SARANAC INN, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Acting on behalf of the Ne-ha-sane Park Association, which has a preserve of several thousand acres a few miles south of Saranac Inn, and of which he is secretary and treasurer, W. Seward Webb, Jr., of New York, has issued an open letter to the members of other organizations and clubs in the Adirondack region, soliciting their cooperation in the protection of deer on these lands during the hunting season, which will open October 1.

Mr. Webb suggests a meeting in New York, which will probably follow next week, at which an agreement will be reached among the owners of these preserve lands as to the killing of deer within their lands to buck only. It is the plan to disregard the recent change in the hunting laws under which each hunter is entitled to take one buck and one doe this season instead of two bucks as heretofore, under the so-called "buck law."

Mr. Webb calls attention to the fact that figures compiled by the State Conservation Commission show that fully 15,000 hunters annually enter the Adirondacks in search of deer. He urges that if but a small proportion of this number were successful and are privileged to take deer as well as bucks the result will be the virtual extinction of deer in the Adirondacks. This is because deer are so much more easily taken than bucks. He cites also the element of danger to the hunters themselves because it is so much easier to get within killing distance of the deer.
